

Call for Authors: Assessment Tasks

April 2024

TESOL Press seeks an author for a new product in its TESOL No-Prep Activity Cards series, which is geared toward English language teachers who are looking for classroom activities that require little to no preparation.

The author will write 100 extremely brief classroom tasks and activities related to the assessment of specific language skills.

Commitment to Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Access (DEIA): TESOL values and seeks diverse and inclusive participation within the field of English language teaching and is committed to upholding antiracist and antidiscrimination policies and practices within the association. We encourage applicants to indicate how their expression of interest contributes to TESOL's DEIA commitment.

Assessment activities will be broken into assessment of reading, writing, speaking, and listening (25 each). All authors receive compensation and are under contract to TESOL.

The product will be developed over a 2-month period, starting as soon as possible, with expected publication by the end of 2024.

If you are interested, please apply using the online application with

- an expression of interest,
- your CV, and
- four classroom activities, one for each skill: reading, writing, speaking, listening (no more than 200 words each, no visuals or images included)

Deadline for submissions: 20 May 2024

TESOL will contact ONLY those applicants whose credentials best suit project requirements.