

Chadia Mansour
Athabasca University
Oakville, ON, Canada

Education

- Doctor in Education, Distance Education, Athabasca University (in progress)
- Master of Arts, Applied Linguistics, Old Dominion University
- Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages Certificate, Old Dominion University
- Bachelor of Arts, English for Academic Purposes, University of Al-Manar

Professional Work Experience

- English Lecturer, Qatar University, Doha, Qatar (2012–2017)
- ESP Summer Program Director, The College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, United State of America (2013–2015)
- Visiting Professor and Researcher, The College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, United State of America (2010–2015)
- Part time Instructor, English Language Center, Old Dominion University, United States of America, (2008-2009).
- Visiting Instructor of Arabic, The College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, United State of America, (2005–2007)
- English Teacher, Aljomhouria Hightschool, Tunis,Tunisia (2004–2005)

Professional Affiliation

- TESOL International Association: EFLIS Past Chair (2019–2020); EFLIS Chair (2018–2019); EFLIS Chair- elect (2017–2018)
- TESOL International Association: Diversity Committee Chair-elect (2014–2015); additional role (year–year); additional role (year–year)
- Qatar TESOL: Conference Council member (2013–2014); additional role (year–year); additional role (year–year)

Research and Publications

- Contributor author, Communicative MSA Teaching Textbooks Series, Pearson, Year (under-revision)

Candidate's Statement

TESOL International Association thrives to serve the TESOL community around the globe. It has therefore reached out to diverse ELT educators to create a platform for inclusiveness, professional development, knowledge creation for the field and fostering generations of leaders in ELT. It is therefore crucial for TESOL leaders to reflect the values of diversity and inclusiveness. In addition, it is important for future leaders to be sensible decision makers in line with TESOL goals and mission. Professionals who bring their expertise, knowledge, leadership skills by not only serving the immediate goals but with a vision that help sustain human resources' involvement and growth are leaders who would make a difference in the Association and the ELT field. I believe I have the academic, professional as well as multicultural backgrounds that make me a good asset to help recruit future leaders in a professional, transparent and confidential manner.