

Call for Authors

January 2023

TESOL Press seeks two authors for a new product series geared toward English language teachers who are looking for classroom activities that require little to no preparation.

Authors will provide extremely brief classroom tasks and activities related to specific language skills. The author(s) will be expected to write activities as well as cull and refine activities from the TESOL Press catalogue. We encourage coauthor applications with diverse teaching backgrounds and contexts.

Commitment to Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Access (DEIA): TESOL values and seeks diverse and inclusive participation within the field of English language teaching and is committed to upholding antiracist and antidiscrimination policies and practices within the association. We encourage applicants to indicate how their expression of interest contributes to TESOL's DEIA commitment.

Current resource topics are Literacy and Oracy (see following breakdown) for A2+ multilingual learners of English, ages 8–12 years old. Each resource requires a separate expression of interest.

Literacy	Oracy
reading	speaking
writing	pronunciation
grammar	listening
vocabulary	vocabulary

All authors receive compensation and are under contract to TESOL.

The products will be developed over a 1-year period, starting as soon as possible, with expected publication by the end of 2023.

If you are interested, please submit

- an expression of interest,
- your CV, and
- two classroom activities (no more than 200 words each) with the subject line “EOI: Classroom Activity Cards (Literacy [or] Oracy)” to tbreland@tesol.org, and please fill out the TESOL Contributor Information Form.

Deadline for submissions: 15 Feb 2023

TESOL will contact those applicants whose credentials best suit project requirements.
