

Call for Technology Contributor

TESOL's 6 Principles for Exemplary Teaching of English Learners, Second Edition

As part of the revision of The 6 Principles for Exemplary Teaching of English Learners: Grades K–12, TESOL is looking for a contributor to add some best practices and update discussions of technology to enhance implementation of the principles. The contributor should have experience with teaching English as a new language in elementary or secondary classrooms using technology both for in-person and virtual learning contexts.

The potential contributor will work closely with the series editor, Deborah Short, and needs to be available to write from mid-July through the end of August 2023.

This is a compensated position.

If you are interested, please submit to deborah.short@comcast.net the following:

- Two writing samples related to classroom practices of no more than 150 words each.
- An expression of interest letter outlining your experience with The 6 Principles.
- Contact information.

The deadline is 15 July 2023.

Commitment to Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Access (DEIA)

TESOL values and seeks diverse and inclusive participation within the field of English language teaching and is committed to upholding antiracist and antidiscrimination policies and practices within the association. We encourage applications from all backgrounds and actively encourage applicants from ethnically diverse communities. We value the positive impact that difference has on our teams.

We will only be able to contact those applicants whose descriptions best suit our requirements.
