Pause 3 (7th Inning Stretch)

We are getting closer to the last part of the webinar...

And since I'm from Boston, let's do the 7th Inning Stretch (Sweet Caroline...).

I'm happy to answer your questions. Then we will move on to our cross curricular uses for our games and where to find them!

Cross-Curricular Uses

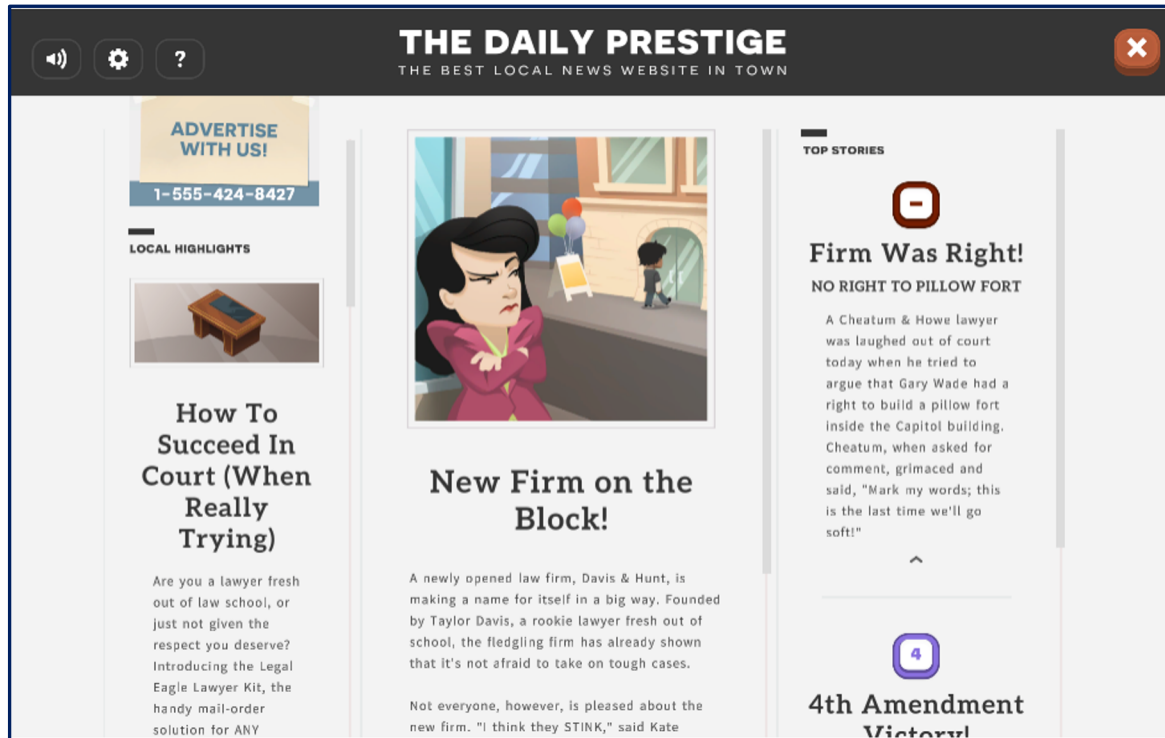

Follow-Up Activities Menu

Choose 2-3 activities, as time allows. The first 3 activities are included in the Extension Pack PowerPoint and as paper handouts in this plan.

Remember & Understand	Evaluate	Create
Display the "Rights Scramble!" activity slide. Call on students to come to the board and identify the amendments by dragging the numbers.*	Display the "Most Important Amendment" slide. Assign students to write about the protections of the amendment they think are most important and to explain why.* Note: Choose the half-sheet paper handout that is most appropriate for your students.	Have pairs of students write and perform dialogs between a client who describes a legal problem with a constitutional right being violated and a lawyer who identifies and explains the amendment that protects this right.
Display the "Match it!" activity slide. Call on students to come to the board and match the illustration to the amendment.	Ask students to imagine and write (or talk) about what would happen if one of the amendments disappeared. How would life in the United States be different?	Make a class version of Do I Have a Right? . Have students write their own legal scenarios to share and act out with the class.

If you wish, have students complete the paper version first.*

Working in Literacy

Why not try CIVICS across content areas!

- Reading
- Writing*

*For ELLs - provide sentence starters, paragraph frames, and/or access to translation as needed

Let's not forget Spanish or bilingual classes!
